

KEYBOARDS THAT LAST AND LAST

Awesome things are happening at Key Tronic Corporation. The introduction of linear feel capacitive keyboards is just one. How can one keyboard supplier offer so many different technologies? As we've said before, anybody can build just one. But, what about manufacturing hundreds of thousands of custom keyboards for the world's best supplier experience and service? That's just as important as the finished product.

Key Tronic has produced over two million full-travel keyboards in-house design, tooling, and production of switches, keytops, printed circuit boards, and assemblies provide price and quality advantages for you.

Whether your requirements are tactile or linear feel, we have both. We also have reedswitch or solid state capacitive keyboards, with microcomputer, LSI, TTL, or minimum interfaces.

Some of you might say, "But they don't make keyboards like this." Key Tronic would just like to say, "Soon, very soon."
